It surely isn't the four little quarts! Every gallon has always had them. But gallons are measured in miles these days—at least when they're gallons of gasoline. And-you get a flock of miles per gallon when you use

Columbus Gasoline

It's really good gasoline because it's good real gasoline

There's no especial trick in making it. Just take the highest-grade crude oil obtainable from the best wells and distill it.

The first thing anybody gets in distilling that sort of petroleum is highest-grade gasoline. And that's what we get. As soon as we get it we send it away and sell it to you, through any garage. We used to call Columbus, White Rock, because it surely does last, but we've changed to Columbus to indicate lasting quality, right combustion and value—all three.

Columbus is nothing but honest to goodness gasoline and gasoline only.

That's why it makes the gallons so big, and makes your gas tank hold more miles than you ever thought it could hold.

WHEN LAFAYETTE CAME BACK.

By J. A. Stewart: Of all the patriots who helped our country to gain its independence and freedom, Lafayette was the most congenial to Americans and the most loved.

When, nearly fifty years after the Revolution, in 1824-25, he revisited the country for which he had done so much, his journey was a triumphal progress. No honor was too great to pay to the self-forgetting Frenchman who had helped us to gain our liberty. The American people have never given such a welcome to a guest of the nation. For a whole year (a year and twenty-three days) General Lafayette was lionized through all the twentyfour states which then comprised the General Lafayette came by invitation. President Monroe sent the invitaion at the request of the representaives of the people of the United States-through the United States Congress. The distinguished Frenchman heartily accepted, modestly declining, however, the proffered services of an American war ship to carry him to this country. He made the trip in an American merchantman sailing vessel, the "Cadmus," from Havre to New York accompanied by his only son, George Washington Lafayette, and his secretary, M. Levas-

It took over a month to sail across reached New York harbor on August 16, 1824. News of his arrival was heralded far and wide. The bells of historic Christ Church, Philadelphia, bells rang, and cannon boomed at Castle Garden, in New York City, where he went (after a few days' rest children were small I relied a great de at the home of Vice President Tomp- on Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical kins on Staten Island) to receive a Adviser for advice when they would great ovation on August 20, which set the pace for all the long succeeding series of demonstrations by cities and towns throughout "the land of the free."

He was a "fine, portly figure" as he rode up (gaily decorated) Broadway that hot summer day in 1824, seated in a handsome barouche drawn by four white horses, leading the long military and civic procession to City Hall. The "Patriot Room" in the City Hall was set aside for his use, and from 12 to 2 P. M. each day, General Lafayette held jammed public receptions there. Nothing by way of tribute was omitted by the New York committee which included among its members, several widows (Mrs. Alexander Hamilton, Mrs. Robert Morris, Mrs. Cadwallader) and other women friends of Lafayette, during Revolutionary days.

New Haven, Boston, Philadelphia, Washington, Baltimore, Yorktown, Arlington Cemetery, were among the special places of interest visited by the beloved Lafayette, who accepted the burden of honors, graciously, patiently and unassumingly. Although he was then sixty-seven years old, his strength was fully equal to the great demands of long, tiresome journeys, of public meetings, parades. receptions, balls, banquets, in endless succession. Dr.F.M.Edwards for 17 years treated scores of women for liver and bowel ailments. During these years he gave to his patients a prescription made of a few well-known vegetable ingredients mixed with olive oil, naming them Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. You will know them by their olive color. These tablets are wonder-workers on the liver and bowels, which cause a normal action, carrying off the waste and poisonous matter in one's system. If you have a pale face, sallow look, dull eyes, pimples, coated tongue, head aches/a listless, no-good feeling, all out of sorts, inactive bowels, you take one of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets nightly for a time and note the pleasing results. Thousands of women and men take Or. Edwards' Olive Tableta—the auccessful substitute for calomel—now and then just to keep them fit. 10c and 25c.

PRESIDENT JAMES A. BURNS, "BURNS OF THE MOUNTAINS."

It is a rare privilege which patrons of the lyceum course will enjoy in hearing President James A. Burns of Oneida University, Kentucky, " of the Mountains," erstwhile feudist, lover of men. Born in the Kentucky mountains, educated in the mountain schools of West Virginia, to which state his father had taken his family to escape the terror of the feuds, with no resources save his own physical strength and an abiding faith in the God he followed, this sterling American planted a university in the hills of Kentucky to save her sons from fratricide. His simple story of events which led to his turning from feudism to constructive thinking about the future of his people and his personal responsibility for that future and of the results attending his experiment in fighting feudism with education is one of the most thrilling recitals of achievement in the annals of the platform. Rugged, homely, virile. sincere, Burns recalls Lincoln in his personality. Simple, unaffected, a master of chaste English, his words intensify the comparison with the beloved rafl splitter.
